Product description

DISCOVER GAIA 2.0

The New Generation, Gaia 2.0, differs from the previous model by having a lithium battery instead of batteries, in addition, the design has been improved; or making it much more ergonomic and elegant.

Gaia 2.0 is a very quiet vibrator, with double stimulation and a double motor so that the sensations are well distributed throughout the entire toy. Its texture is velvety and its vibrations can stimulate the area you want. you prefer.

Its curved design allows you to caress the walls of the vagina, in case you want to insert it, while you caress the external area of the vulva with the vibration of its second motor, although you can also try it anywhere another part of your body that you want to play with. Use your imagination to explore new sensations that you didnt know before!

It is Made with silicone, a body-friendly and very hygienic material. With 10 different vibration modes to discover, which you can alternate thanks to its easy-to-use control located at the bottom of the toy. It works with a lithium battery, which gives it autonomy for a long time of play

HOW TO USE IT?

Before you start, make sure you are in a place where you can relax to start this thrilling experience. Now, I wanted Gaia 2.0 to work and have a battery in the batteries. Once everything is checked, you can start with the preparations.

Start by stimulating your nipples with the head of the vibrator, making small circles over your breasts. Little by little, go down until you reach the vagina. Once there, apply water-based lubricant to the clitoris, vagina and the Gaia 2.0 sex toy.

Once you are ready, bring the toy closer to the area to be stimulated and begin penetration. Performing the movements that bring you the most pleasure to the G-Spot and the Clitoris. Change between the 10 vibration modes to give it the final touch necessary to reach orgasm!
