Product description

This season's most desired accessory hides a double use. Its design not only allows you to wear it with party dresses or jeans, but it also becomes handcuffs with a strap to unleash your fantasies.

How to use:

The strap located in the middle of this accessory hides a secret: untie it from your waist to reveal it. Start by releasing this strap from your body, as you see it divides into two; Unhook the extension from the left strap. Continue unclipping at the front of the belt, both left and right ends of the vertical straps.

Fold the straps, which are now only attached to the front ring, and pass them inside it, from the inside to the outside. Hook the extension that you untied at the beginning of the left strap into the strap rings. Place your hands inside the 'cuffs' you just made and let them guide your movements through the strap. You have just turned your belt into a movement restrictor.
