Product description

We need to reconnect with our bodies, and genitals are the most underrated part of our anatomy.

We want to put your clitoris on the map and have all the attention fall on it, maintaining concentration on pleasure during a solo pleasure session or in a sexual marathon with your partner. Lack of sensitivity can be a reality for people with vulvas and this orgasmic serum increases sensitivity so that your clitoris feels like never before.

Arginine is responsible for sensitizing the area while ginseng increases microcirculation, bringing more blood to the clitoris and increasing arousal. To avoid distractions, we added Thermolat, a patented molecule responsible for a gentle, super-stimulating heat and tingling effect.

Once again, we rely on the experience of our laboratory, after a relationship of trust for more than 13 years, to develop the best formula with the best ingredients. A single drop of this serum is enough for each session, so 13 ml. With the orgasmic serum for the clitoris you can enjoy up to three months of pleasure.
