Venture into a world of sensations. All the excitement of a blind date, in a mask that provides large doses of sensuality and mystery.

- Content: mask.

Did you know...

...the sense of sight intervenes decisively in the phase prior to sexual arousal? Men and women awaken their desire by contemplating and observing, although men are more easily aroused through visual stimuli.

...when we are deprived of sight, touch, hearing and smell become more acute, and it is then that factors such as body odor or skin touch play an important role in sexual attractiveness?

...entering the world of sensations requires a gesture as simple as closing your eyes and in the dark, a whisper, some sensual words or a melody can make desire explode?

Tip: invite your lover to rediscover the senses. Aromatize the room with the fragrance of a massage candle, run over your body with a feather duster, and prepare your skin for an exciting massage.
