Product description

The ElectraClamp bipolar electro clamp is the ideal electrode choice if you want to stimulate just a small surface area of your body. Designed to have a gentle grip, you can use this e-stim electro clamp anywhere below the waist to provide precise stimulation for your smallest pleasure zones.

Suitable for use on the penis, testicles, perineum, labia and clitoris; this clamp is adjustable and can be clamped to any loose area of skin.

Apply a little conductive gel (sold separately) to the contact points before application to experience clearer, more resonant stimulation. Connect the bi-polar contacts to any ElectraStim stimulator (sold separately) and you'll feel the delectable tingles and contractions of electro-sex with added precision.

Made from smooth ABS plastic with conductive silicone pads, this lightweight clamp is unobtrusive yet provides deceptively powerful stimulation through whichever small surface area you attach it to.

Please note, you will require an electro stimulator to power this item.
