Product description

Our best-selling square uni-polar ElectraPads are a staple of any electro-sex kit and are included with many of our stimulators. They're incredibly easy to use and can be worn anywhere below your waist to intensify the sensations you feel during masturbation, foreplay and sex.

Connect 2 pads to a single channel on your stimulator, peel off the backing and press them against your body. The 2-inch-square surface of each pad conducts electrostimulation to create erotic tingles and pulsations that enhance erotic sensations.

Try sharing electro sex with your partner when you both wear a pad on a single channel. Not only will you feel sensation through the pads, you'll also create tingles everywhere you and your lover touch.

A set Uni-polar ElectraPads are an essential part of any electrosex kit. Versatile in application and sensation, they can be worn anywhere below the waist to improve erotic and sadomasochistic sensations.

With power levels lowered they work similarly to a waist toning belt, causing pleasurable tingles and muscle contractions in time with stimulation. Couples can share stimulation by wearing a pad each, allowing them to experience electrostimulation everywhere they touch

Turn the power up and ElectraPads make an intense enhancement to BDSM sensory play including flogging and spanking. Simply apply a pad to each buttock before a spanking and your sub will feel an e-stim buzz alongside each hit. When used with our ElectraStim Flick, every stroke is transformed as stimulation responds to the ferocity of your swing.

You can wear ElectraPads anywhere below the waist, so they're incredibly versatile and can be applied directly to the penis or labia for a sensual accentuation to masturbation, foreplay, oral sex and sex.

Each ElectraPad can be worn up to 6 times by the same person, so make sure you keep the plastic backing to hand. If the adhesive starts to feel a little dry, simply add a drop of water to refresh it.
