Product description

Exciting Evening Primrose for use in intimate massages for women, is an intensifier of pleasure and orgasms, and, applied in the intimate area, provides the woman with more sensitivity, more sensuality, facilitating and lengthening the time of pleasure. This new formula provides greater softness and remarkable glide and, all of this, improving, at the same time, the care of your most intimate area. Its cold and warm effect afterwards is complemented by a pleasant tingling of intense pleasure.

- Arginine Arginine that acts as a vasodilator, increasing sensitivity. It has immediate action. It is an amino acid that intervenes in some functions of the woman's body, highlighting its aphrodisiac effects, which significantly improves sexual desire. Likewise, arginine intervenes in the erection of the clitoris, in the first phase. Highly recommended in situations in which you want to achieve a true climax and a pleasant sexual relationship as a couple; indicated in intimate massages, and especially in cases of frigidity, sexual apathy, in uncomfortable and unpleasant penetrations and in any situation where you wish to enhance and increase sexual pleasure.

- Evening primrose extract oil contains gammalinolenic acid (PEG1) that promotes the production of prostaglandins and acts on the dilation of blood vessels, whose action is essential to have a good clitoral erection. P - Aloe Babadensis: for greater care and softness of the female intimate area.

- Menthol: which provides freshness and analgesic effect on mucous membranes

- Camphor: Its hot-cold effect is complemented by a pleasant tingling of intense pleasure with immediate action.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE: Apply a sufficient amount of gel to the previously cleaned area, at the same time doing a light and gentle massage until you notice a pleasant and pleasant tingling sensation.

Prepares the area and conditions it so that massages promote fluid circulation; It is intensifying, sliding and softening. It is for external use; It is non-toxic, so it can be used in quantity and frequency according to your needs.
