Product description

Immerse yourself in a realistic and intense experience with Cynthia, the remote-controlled thrusting vibrator from Intense, designed to offer deep and natural stimulation thanks to its realistic thrusting motion. With its combination of vibration, thrusting, and a warming sensation, this toy provides a completely immersive pleasure experience.

Made from super-soft, medical-grade silicone and high-quality ABS components, Cynthia guarantees a velvety and pleasant feel, as well as a sturdy and safe structure. All its materials are body-safe and phthalate-free, ensuring a comfortable, hygienic, and reliable experience. This powerful vibrator features 10 thrusting modes that simulate the natural movement of penetration, along with 10 vibration modes that offer different rhythms and intensities. You can use them independently or in combination, exploring a wide variety of sensations and adapting them to your rhythm and desires. Its innovative heating function adds a touch of realism by reaching a pleasant, body-like temperature, intensifying the sensation during use. Furthermore, its suction cup base allows it to be attached to smooth surfaces for hands-free enjoyment, facilitating free and comfortable play. The wireless remote control offers complete freedom to change thrust or vibration modes without interrupting the moment, ideal for both solo play and enjoying with a partner.
