Product description

What is Kinesiology Tape IRISANA for menstrual pain?

It is a self-adhesive and elastic tape used for neuromuscular bandage and with excellent results in relieving menstrual pain. It is made of cotton and polyurethane and incorporates medical-grade self-adhesive and tourmaline. It is hypoallergenic, water resistant, does not contain latex or medications and has optimal elasticity in the longitudinal direction.

- How does it work?

Kinesiology Tape Irisana has an elasticity similar to that of the skin. When applied correctly, the skin receptors are activated, sending information to the neurovegetative system, which controls the contractions of the uterus.
Kinesiology Tape Irisana is, therefore, a natural therapy favored by Tourmaline, which in contact with the skin generates heat, penetrating deeply and producing a calming effect locally.

- Duration:

The Kinesiology Tape Irisana can be worn for several days and while practicing sports activities. It is recommended to use it from the first symptoms, even before menstruation begins, so that it is more effective. It can get wet without its effects being reduced.
