Product description

IrisCup is the most innovative and healthy alternative to using disposable tampons and pads.

IrisCup is a reusable menstrual cup that adapts perfectly to the vaginal walls, collecting menstrual flow, instead of absorbing it, without leaks, without altering the vaginal mucosa and without impeding natural lubrication.

IrisCup is made of Surgical Silicone (100% Platinum Silicone), the safest and most biocompatible material that can come into contact with our body, since it will not cause any type of reaction (such as an allergy or inflammation).

The IrisCup menstrual cup is also the most economical alternative to using other disposable products, since its resistance allows it to be used for approximately 10 years. Its cost is amortized over 6 months.

- Sterilizing cup size L
- Gift sterilizing bag

IrisCup is an ecological alternative, since its manufacturing does not use materials that contribute to the felling of trees and deforestation.

In its manufacturing process, bleaches such as chlorine are not used, which generate dioxins that contaminate the water, air, and soil and are easily stored in our adipose cells. Thanks to its long useful life, it generates less waste than tampons and pads (around 45,000 million pads and tampons are thrown away in the world every year).

IrisCup comes in two colors and sizes to be used depending on age and maternal history.
