The rounded tip of the Vita™ is adept at delivering pinpoint pleasure. Use the vibrating tip to tease sweet spots like the nipples, clitoris, and labia.

To start, use Vita to massage the external clitoris and labia. Use the wand tip to gently thrust into areas that feel good. The concave tip of the Vita™ It can be used to identify the clitoris, so once you've explored this by rotating this area, start to identify where her sensitive areas are. Deepen the intensity by speeds or pressure to build to orgasm. For internal play, only insert Vita into the vagina once you're aroused, or use a water-based lubricant to make insertion easier. You can use Vita for superficial play internally to get the best feeling by exploring what directions and pressure feel good. When exploring other parts of the body, Vita feels great on the tip of the penis and in the perineum. Let the vibrations work their magic.

Be sure to use Vita's speeds and patterns to find out what works best for you. Some may enjoy a light intensity and then increase it as you start to feel aroused. Or some may like to go to the highest speed right away - it's their pleasure ride, so have fun and you do it.
