Product description

Turn on connection and synchronize your sensations! The Fuse Dual Stimulation Massager is Bluetooth enabled with two-way communication so you and your partner can share your pleasure from any distance. Built-in sensor technology allows for two-way control of connected devices so either of you can drive motion. LED light illuminates to provide visual feedback.

The first interactive dual stimulation environment that takes the thrill of control to a new level. The touch-sensitive technology built into the tickler allows you to control your partner's device with the touch or tap of your finger.

- There are so many ways to play...

Use it for adventurous solo play and take full advantage of Fuse's touch-sensitive technology to boost vibrations.

Control other people's pleasure remotely or let them control yours.

This multi-directional remote control vibrator makes remote intimacy and mutual masturbation truly possible as Fuse interacts with other KiirOO products.

Take the control

Fuse's touch-sensitive technology responds to the touch of your body. The deeper you take the vibe, the more intense the sensations are.... Or don't go deeper and feel the gentle vibrations of this mind-blowing interactive pleasure product...

Share control

Connect remotely and flaunt your Fuse's superpowers...touch or stroke the tickler to take control and drive your lover crazy. Or sit back and wait for your partner to take control. Let technology bring you closer no matter where you are in the world.

Compatible with all existing and future KiirOO devices.

To lose control

Experience interactive content like never before... 2D or VR for adults... you decide. The Fuse experience is all about choice.

With frequent and effortless firmware updates, Fuse will be remotely optimized so that the latest features created by KiirOO and OhMiBod are at your fingertips.
