Product description

Industrial Net Footless Stockings are a type of net stockings that do not have a specific section for the feet, making them suitable for wearing with any type of open or closed footwear, or even barefoot. They are made from a thick, durable woven net, known as industrial net, which provides a striking and bold appearance to the legs.

These footless tights are popular in alternative fashion, the entertainment world and in certain dance or dance styles, where a more rebellious or provocative look is sought. Due to their footless nature, they can be easily paired with any type of shoes, from high heels to boots or sneakers.

Industrial Net footless tights can be found in a variety of colors and styles, from classic black to more vibrant shades or even prints. They are an ideal choice for those who want to add a touch of distinctive and bold style to their outfit.
