How does it work

The tablets support the physical health and sexual performance of men thanks to natural ingredients such as Tribulus Terrestris, Saw Palmetto, Siberian Ginseng and Muira Puama. The Tribulus Terrestris plant grows primarily in warm, tropical regions around the world. Tribulus Terrestris has been used for years in Asia and Bulgaria for various aspects. Tribulus Terrestris supports healthy testosterone levels and helps regulate the concentration of this hormone. Testosterone plays an important role in sex drive and can increase libido. Siberian ginseng strengthens the immune system and contributes to generating more energy and resistance. Muira Puama has been used for years in various countries around the world as a sexual stimulant. In various studies, the use of Muira Puama has been shown to increase the frequency of sexual desire, relationships and fantasies. More satisfaction with sexual life, the intensity of desire, fantasies, the ability to reach orgasm and its intensity have also been shown. Saw palmetto is an herb that has a positive effect on the functioning of the prostate. Calcium is important for the maintenance of normal muscle and nerve function.
