Product description

Cum Plus can help improve the quality and production of semen, thanks to the ingredients Zinc and Selenium. These capsules with natural ingredients improve fertility, organs and the general physical well-being of men. With the help of Cum Plus you can maintain the quality of sperm.

- Helps improve sperm quality
- Selenium promotes sperm production*
- Zinc helps regulate testosterone levels in the blood
- Vitamin B12 is very important for energy metabolism

How does it work

The capsules, with natural ingredients, support fertility, organs and the general physical well-being of men. The balanced formula takes advantage of the properties of the ingredients Selenium, Zinc, Vitamin E, Maca and Dong Quai. Selenium normalizes spermatogenesis, the production of sperm. Selenium contains antioxidants and protects cellular components of the body, including sperm, from oxidation. Not only selenium, but also zinc, vitamin C, and vitamin E help protect cell components from oxidative damage. In addition, zinc helps normalize fertility and reproduction in men and also helps regulate the metabolism of fatty acids, to regulate hormonal balance. Folic acid participates in the production of new cells and promotes cell division. Added magnesium, vitamins B6 and B12 and vitamin C normalize energy metabolism. Magnesium, vitamin B6 and vitamin C also help regulate the functioning of the nervous system and, consequently, can contribute to feeling more energetic and vital.
