Product description

Rubber and latex clothing must guarantee one thing above all: shine, that is, be in the center of attention. Therefore, in addition to pjur CULT, which is used as an aid for putting on rubber and latex clothing, there is also pjur CULT ULTRA SHINE. In addition to giving an ultra shine, as the name indicates, this product protects and treats the material. The formula is long-lasting and resistant to dirt, non-sticky and does not leave stains.

The focus of product development was on the main effect: "ultra shine". The sprayed surfaces receive an intensive shine, which gives the desired effect to the clothing. The second most important requirement for the product is to take care of the clothing so that it can be enjoyed for longer and the material can acquire that soft and smooth feel.

Pjur CULT ULTRA SHINE is packaged in a 250 ml spray bottle and not in an aerosol gas bottle with dubious propellant gases. Like all products from the pjur group, the spray is a quality product "Made in Germany", developed according to cosmetic guidelines, fragrance-free and preservative-free. No animal products were used and no animal experiments were carried out in connection with production, as a matter of principle.
