If you put this together ahead of time, you can create it with the help of the penis ring. The uniform compression in the area of the base of the penis counteracts premature blood discharge. The application performs blood flow obstruction to a considerable strengthening and stretching erection.

A word about the size of penis rings: You should start with the largest size and gradually reduce the size depending on the effect. Please note that the rings can be worn no longer than 30 minutes, as it can lead to circulatory disorders.
