Product description

2-in-1 vibrator with remote control for a hands-free experience

The Rocks-Off Ruby Glow Pink is an innovative sit-on vibrator that adapts perfectly to the body to stimulate the vulva and perineum externally, hands-free. Its ergonomic, curved, and stable design allows it to be placed directly between your legs while you sit, offering a relaxing and highly stimulating experience.

This model easily transforms into an internal vibrator thanks to its curved shaft that precisely reaches the G-spot, allowing you to explore internal stimulation whenever you want. It includes two powerful, independent motors with 10 deep vibration modes, controllable from both the toy itself and the included wireless remote control, ideal for solo or couple play.

The Ruby Glow sits on a magnetic base with non-slip silicone feet, allowing it to be securely attached to smooth surfaces like chairs or stools, for an even more versatile experience.
