Satisfyer Love Beads: The soft introduction to anal training!

Love Beads from Satisfyer are perfect for sensual backdoor games: The set of 2 anal beads comes with varied textures and a smooth surface made of silicone. With 5 elements each, the Love Beads are the perfect companion for anal training. Whether you opt for the classic spherical shape with grooved structure or the pyramid-shaped design in a high-quality diamond look is entirely up to you. Both anal bead chains are extremely flexible and adapt perfectly to your body’s contours. The practical loop simplifies use and ensures you can enjoy your device safely. The playful look is disarming to beginners as they get started with anal training.

What are the other benefits?

Besides their versatile textures and designs, Satisfyer Love Beads will inspire you with their silky feel. The smooth surface of body-friendly silicone is extremely hygienic and easy to clean – since the balls are used anally, we recommend thorough disinfection with Satisfyer's Disinfectant Spray before and after each use. The spray is optimally matched to the material. We also recommend using a Satisfyer lubricant for back door play. The lubricants are available in Classic, Silky and Warming versions and are the ideal complement to your Satisfyer Love Beads.
