What Next Generation Vibration offers?

Everything women want ... This toy with oval head, an innovative technique of pressure and massage without contact for greater pleasure.

To turn on the luxury stimulator, you only have to press the lower and smaller button for about 2 seconds until the lowest level of massage has been activated in the Satisfyer Pro 3 NG Vibration.

Now, open a little bit the lips of the vulva and separate them to clear the clitoris. Place the oval head with light pressure on the clitoris, so that it is in the cavity. When you have found the ideal position, you will not have to move the dildo anymore.

If you want to increase the intensity, briefly press the larger and oval button. Each time you press it, the intensity will increase one level. There are 11 intensity levels you can choose from. Starting at level 11, you can reduce the speed step by step with the largest and oval button. While the dildo is running, the LED will be continuously in the user's field.

Turn on the vibration to increase the feeling of this exclusive model.

It is incredibly great. The product is rechargeable, so it allows a comfortable and free cable management.

Important: it must be fully charged from the first application, it is very easy with the included USB charging cable. Attach it with the two magnetic contacts in the intended contact and metal locations of the dildo. If the charging cable does not stick, you can connect it to the electrical circuit and wait a moment.

This will activate the magnet and the connection of the contacts will be automatically restored. During the charging process, the LED flashes. As soon as the loading process is finished, it will shine continuously.

The first charging process can last a maximum of eight hours.
