Product description

Discover Dreamy, the jewel of SILEXD's Fantasy line: a sensory experience that seems born from a dream, but that you can shape to your liking. Dreamy is thermoreactive, which means it responds to your will: it becomes more flexible and enveloping when heated, and firmer and more defined when cooled. Its Silexpan core maintains temperature effectively, while the liquid silicone surface provides an extraordinarily silky, soft, and enveloping touch, like a lasting caress.

Its bold, whimsical, and deliberately unreal shape—the very essence of fantasy—is Designed to spark the imagination and deliver unexpected sensations. It doesn't follow conventional patterns: it curves, suggests, and invites exploration. Its hue gives it a sophisticated, dreamy presence, and its solid IPX7-certified construction allows you to use it with confidence in humid environments, clean it effortlessly, and have it ready for the next adventure. Dreamy is more than just an object: it's an invitation to play, experiment, and make every moment personal, new, and magical.
