Product description

Model 2 is a thermoreactive anal plug with various sizes and a smooth shape designed for anal exploration, offering a sensual and pleasurable experience.

This innovative product combines the properties of a conventional anal plug with thermoreactive features that respond to body heat, providing additional sensations and increasing comfort during use.

The plug is Made from high-quality, body-safe materials, ensuring an enjoyable and risk-free experience. Its ergonomic design facilitates insertion and ensures a comfortable fit inside the anal canal. Additionally, the base of the plug is Securely designed to prevent full insertion and ensure smooth removal.

The thermoreactive characteristic of the plug implies that the material used has the ability to change its temperature in response to body heat. This not only improves comfort during use, but also adds an extra dimension of sensation as the plug adapts to body temperature.

The thermoreactivity process is not only limited to temperature adaptation, but can also enhance the tactile sensation and flexibility of the plug, creating a more personalized and sensual experience. The plugs ability to adjust to individual variations in body temperature ensures a unique experience for each user.

As with all sex toys, the use of water-based lubricants is recommended to facilitate insertion and improve comfort. Proper cleaning before and after each use is essential to maintain the hygiene of the toy and prevent possible irritation or infections.
