Water-based lubricants do not stain, are safe to use with latex and all barrier contraceptive methods, and rarely cause irritation. While they may dry out during prolonged sexual activity, they can be easily rehydrated with a little water or saliva. Due to their versatility and effectiveness, they are the most recommended option by experienced couples. New ReAquaV8 technology: all Skins water-based lubricants have the ability to reactivate with just a few drops of water. This way, you can enjoy a natural sensation and silky-smooth sex for longer.
