ACTIVE INGREDIENTS

- Caffeine

Caffeine is a stimulant of the central nervous system. Its consumption generates an increase in alertness, improves body coordination and decreases the feeling of sleepiness and fatigue, which can end up translating into an improvement in performance.

- Ginseng

It stimulates the central nervous system, increases physical and intellectual performance, increases non-specific resistance to diseases, reduces the frequency of diseases due to cold and fatigue. It has an antidepressant effect. Another important advantage is its ability to reduce blood sugar levels by lowering the body's fat content.

- Guarana

---

Guarana It is a natural stimulant and an excellent remedy against physical and mental fatigue, prolongs the state of wakefulness and increases the ability to perform work that requires physical effort. The properties of guarana seeds activate our nervous system and make the body secrete more adrenaline. This gets our body and mind going.
